

Greetings Message

Dear comrades,

I hereby send a fraternal greeting to your congress and to the workers you represent, in full confidence that you will come out committed, stronger and better prepared to proceed with the struggle in defense of workers' rights.

We live in a time in which ruling classes continue to deepen the attack against peoples and workers using false arguments about the pandemic. It is crucial to strengthen the workers' struggle and resistance against exploitation and against those who do everything in their power to prevent their mobilization and struggle.

Without struggle, nothing can be achieved, so we express our solidarity for the fight against capitalist exploitation and domination.

The struggle goes on!
